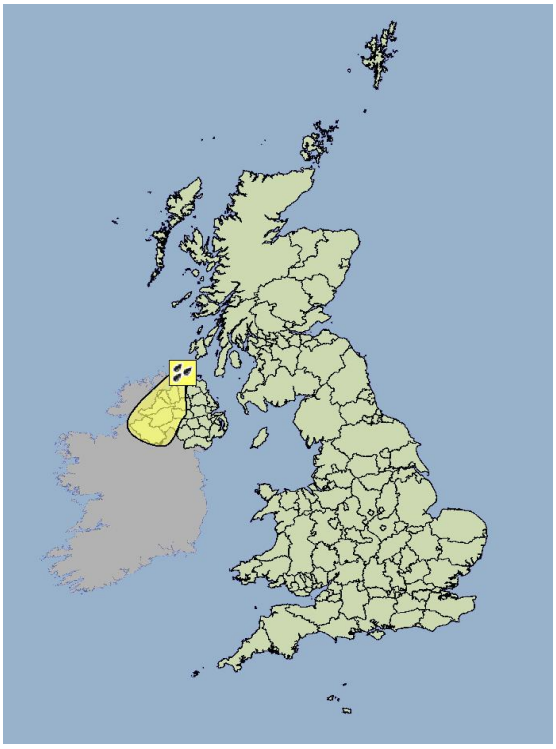
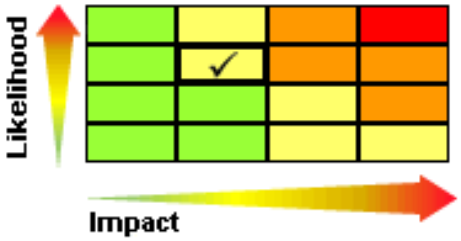
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
Outbreaks of showery rain will affect much of Northern Ireland on Thursday afternoon and evening. Some of the showers will become heavy with the chance of thunder, and could bring localised hourly falls of 10-20 mm. While not everywhere will see these totals, where they occur, driving conditions will be difficult and there could be some localised travel disruption.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 15:00 on Thu, 21st Jul 2016 until 23:55 on Thu, 21st Jul 2016

Showers will turn heavier across western parts of Northern Ireland later this afternoon and will last through the evening.

Please be aware of the risk of some low level disruption due to surface water flooding.
